

Sreeya Gambhirrao

Internet Safety Skit

In the office late at night...

Dad: What time is it? How long have I been working?

Phone dings; A notification pops up

Dad: Hmm? Who is this?

Opens the notification

Dad: What?! How did this person get so much information about me and my family? Who sent his?!

Dad: What am I supposed to do now?!

Dad: Do I call the police or...? I am already stressed with work lately and now this!

As the parent is tensing up, his teenage kid hears his screaming and walks in confused...

Charlie: Dad? Why are you awake? It's 11:30 in the night. Why are yelling so much?

Dad: It's nothing son. Go back to bed.

Charlie: Are you sure dad? You can tell me if there is something up! No need to hide things from me.

Dad: No! Go to bed!

Charlie: Fine dad! I am just trying to help! No need to yell at me.

Dad: sighs

Dad thinks for while...

Dad: Alright. I trust that you are mature enough to see this.

Dad: I have no clue who sent this and how they got this information. I am stressing out.

Shows notification

Charlie: Oh my gosh. Dad this is serious!

Mom walks in

Mom: What is happening here?

Charlie: Dad got an unknown text with all this private information about us. They are blackmailing us.

Mom: WHAT?!

Dad: Shhhh! Can everyone please stay quiet?!

Charlie: Dad, I think I know how this person got this information.

Charlie: You were not being secure when browsing online.

Dad: What does that mean?

Charlie: It means that you were not being careful of which websites you were going on and where you are putting your information.

Charlie: Before putting private information into a website, you need to check if it is actually a secure website. Check the URL.

Dad: This all happened because I was randomly putting information on random sites?

Charlie: Yes.

Dad: That makes sense! I never thought people would get my information just because I went on certain websites.

Charlie: Well dad, there are very malicious and clever hackers that watch your every move online.

Dad: Oh my gosh! I wish I knew this earlier.

Charlie: Well the first thing to do is to call the police and trace this hacker down. You should also change some of your private stuff so that it doesn't get hacked again.

Dad: That's a good idea!

Dad: And one more thing...

Charlie and Mom: Yes?

Dad: Until this gets resolved, let's limit our time on social media and the internet. We can't add more fuel to the fire.

Charlie: WHAT?!